Guidelines for Authors

We welcome papers in all fields of economic and social history, and do not have chronological or geographical restrictions.

Papers should be submitted in Word format to CWPESH@gmail.com

There is no style guide, but papers should be formatted according to the conventional styles in scholarly publishing (e.g. Harvard, Chicago, APA, MLA).

Papers should include email address and affiliation of the author(s).

It is the author's responsibility that no copyright agreements are infringed upon publication of the Working Paper.

The author is required to inform the editorial board when a paper is subsequently published.

The author must not post the unpublished work online or elsewhere other than on the CWPESH website.

By posting your paper on the CWPESH website you agree to the above conditions.
